New Student Center Hearings This Week

• GROUPS AND INDIVIDUALS who have ideas they would like to have incorporated in the proposed new University Center will be given a chance to express themselves at hearings to be held this week and next week.

Six sessions have been scheduled, two today from 10 am to noon and from 2 to 4 pm, and tomorrow and Wednesday, Nov. 20, at the same times. The hearings will take place in the conference room of Building DD (2120 I St.). Twenty-five organizations and 36 individuals have been invited to send representatives to present their ideas to the committee or simply to submit a written statement. Individuals or organizations not covered by the mailing list are also invited to present statements if interested. Appointments may be made at University extension 724.

The advisory committee on the University Center, composed of students, alumni, and members of the faculty, administration and board of trustees, met for the first time Nov. 4 and was given the general outlines to follow in planning. John A. Brown, vice president in charge of plans and resources, set the first of next year as the target date to get plans for the Center to the architect.

He stated that what the Center's facilities included would depend on how the building is financed. Government financing would impose restrictions on facilities that were not of a strictly student union nature, such as underground parking.

Members of the committee will be present at the hearings to question representatives presenting statements.

Committee members are David Aaronson, alumnus and student at Harvard Law School; Eva Adams, alumna and director of the United States Mint; Seymour Alpert, professor of anesthesiology; Newell Ellison, chairman of the board of trustees; Allan Goldberg, chairman of Colonial Boosters.

Also Henry Herzog, University vice president and treasurer; Frederick Houser, registrar; Eva Johnson, associate professor of psychology; George M. Koehl, professor of physics and associate dean of the Columbian College; Karen Koenig, Madison Hall council member; Robert Kramer, dean of the law school; Mary Maddox, member of the HATCHET board of editors.

Also, Theodore Perros, professor of chemistry; Paul Schwab, Student Council president; William Smith, assistant to the dean of faculties, for planning; James C. Van Story, Jr., member of the board of trustees; Ron Walt, chairman of the Student Planning Commission; Jill Warren, president of Mortar Board; and Robert C. Willson, associate professor of journalism.

Ex officio members of the committee are Paul Bissell, dean of men; John A. Brown, Jr., vice president in charge of plans and resources; John C. Einbinder, business manager; Virginia Kirkbride, dean of women; and Sally Shames, special assistant to the Office of Plans and Resources.

Happiness Is A Goat Show By Sorority Pledges

• "HAPPINESS IS . . ." a "White House Lawn," "A Trash-can," "A Subway," or even "A Game of Billiards" according to sorority pledge classes participating in the annual Panhellenic Goat Show, Friday, Nov. 15, 8:20 pm, in Lisner.

This year's theme, "Happiness Is . . ." will be interpreted in a myriad of ways in the five-minute original skits presented by the 13 pledge classes in this traditional competition. To the Alpha Epsilon Phi's, happiness is a "Stool Pigeon," to the Chi O's, "Saturday Night at the Laundromat," and to Kappa Kappa Gammas it is "A Key."

Boys seem to dominate the idea of happiness for the Kappa Deltas with "Norman," and the Sigma Delta Taus with "Bernard Zilch." The Delta Zetas will re-examine Freudian happiness in "A Child's Garden of Abnormality."

The Alpha Delta Pi's claim happiness is "A Subway," while the Pi Beta Phi's believe it is "A Game of Billiards." Approaching it from a different angle, the Kappa Alpha Thetas picture "A Trash-can" giving happiness, and the Sigma Kappas say it is "An Icy Vice."

Politics come into the show with Delta Gamma's "A Woman with Vigah," the Phi Sigma Sigma's "A Revolution," and Zeta Tau Alpha's "White House Lawn."

The show is open to the public, and the admission charge is 25 cents plus a contribution of a can of food for the Council of Churches of the National Capital Area.

The judges for the skits will be John G. Boswell, professor of education, Dr. Richard Stephens of the sociology department, and John Zier, assistant business manager. Trophies will be awarded for Originality, Ensemble, and Audience Appeal.

Directories On Sale Today

• THIS YEAR'S STUDENT Directory will go on sale today in the Student Union during lunch hour.

In contrast to last year's release date toward the end of second semester, this year's distribution is the earliest in years, according to Directory chairman Dave Hicks. 1000 copies of the bound, eight-and-a-half by eleven inch sized book will be sold at 25 cents each.

Hicks noted that $610 worth of advertisements had been sold and had enabled him to keep the price below last year's 35 cents.

7 Schools Join In Food Appeal

• THE UNIVERSITY WILL join six other area universities in sponsoring campus canned food drives. The Intercollegiate Red Cross Committee composed of representatives from all the schools will supervise the drive. The University drive on campus is scheduled for Nov. 18-27. All kinds of canned food will be needed, with particular emphasis on canned milk, baby food, fruit, vegetables, and meat.

Donations may be deposited in boxes in the Student Union lobby beginning Nov. 18. The food will then be distributed by the Red Cross to needy families in the area. Both individuals and groups are encouraged to take part in the drive.

Other Red Cross projects this year include driving Red Cross vehicles for service projects and inspecting and stuffing Christmas stockings. The Christmas project will begin Dec. 9.

HAPPINESS IS ... A WINNING TEAM

• SURPRISE! I'M NOT quite sure how Foggy made it to the center fold, but here we are anyway with the weekend over, and every one sobered up—with an extra day to do it in. Everyone managed to get his float finished in time to be blown apart before the parade.

The Pikes were plagued with bad luck in the form of some Maryland mud, an overhanging tree, and brothers Price and Watson. Claire Filbert wandered aimlessly up and down G St. looking for yellow and brown crepe paper, while the AEP's showed up with the remnants of some houses in the area. No one seemed to know where the Theta float was; I'm sure it was good.

Friday afternoon a few people managed to keep their eyes open long enough to get to the Phi Sig TGIF. Barry Kline finally found someone who dances the same way he does; too bad she was a little heavy. Bugs Baker returned from West Virginia with a skirt-raising form of monkey. Nick Bazan spent the afternoon introducing everyone to his mother, while Devonna Goodwin showed off her newly acquired talent. And, of course, Bart was there.

Friday night "Brigadoon" was a big success as evidenced by the audience's extended applause, even though the curtain did get stuck. It was good to see a full house, especially the French sailors with the cute pom-pom hats.

Saturday morning, walking past the TEP house, I heard the melodious voices of the Gate and Keyers with their rendition of "I Love My Girl" and "Loopy." I never knew Dave Hicks had such a good voice. There was the strangest odor coming from the direction of the basement. If anyone knows what the odor was, please clue me in. Oh yes I could tell from the noise that Bart was there.

Saturday at the game found Carolyn Horton taking a coke bath, thanks to Bud Brown, while George Jaeger and Bill Rhode led the Pike cheering section, bottle-in-hand. The Telkes, having failed in their monument attempt, managed to get their sign out of the hands of the DC police and display it at the game. The Phi Sigs paid tribute to the players and Coach Camp by carrying them off the field. You'll never guess who was the instigator, Oh, and by the way, Bart was also at the Game, I saw him shaking hands with the president.

Before the dance there were various bottle-opening parties around campus. I hear Ron Pump's guests caused quite a stir over at the Washington Circle Apts., thanks to Linda Keighly. Mary Maddox discovered that her pantaloons weren't as long as she thought, and was the hit of Ron Goldwyn's party.

Aside from the "Who, Who, Who, am I's" the dance itself was relatively quiet. The Phi Sigma Deltas seemed to be off in another world. Joel Rosenberg evidently couldn't find the dance floor, because he used the table. Poor Norm Neverson was at a loss without any Monkey music, so he improvised.

The Men's room was rather busy throughout the night, just ask Tom Morgan, Gary Pierson and Jan Fricks seemed to be the only ones enjoying the band and wore some wood off the Armory Floor. Rosie had two dancing partners, his date and a champagne bottle. With glasses at a premium Jim Leupold improvised and used his trophy, that is when Frank Masci wasn't kissing it. Bart also managed to make it to the dance, with a date no less.

Immediately following the dance a certain HATCHET editor distracted a few fraternity brothers from their extra-social activities by taking a walk through Rock Creek Park unescorted. This editor didn't return from his Odyssey until 5:30 am, much to the joy (ha, ha) of his friends and the police.

VPI Retains Conference Lead After NC State Upset

by Vytas Tarulis

● THE WEAKEST TEAMS in the Southern Conference upheld loop prestige this Saturday, as extra points were the focus of attention. In a weekend of non-Conference clashes the rear guard registered triumphs, while the pace-setters only acquitted themselves with honor.

Southern Conference leader VPI faced ACC leader North Carolina State and fumbled away the winning touchdown. Mike Cahill took a punt in the end zone, dropped it, and Tony Koszarsky pounced on it for the Wolfpack. The NC State defense held Bob Schweikert to 91 yards, 59 on a run setting up the only Gobbler score, and put away the Wolfpack win 13-7.

William and Mary rolled up a huge statistical victory over Virginia, but the Cavaliers squeaked through with a 9-7 win. The Indians drove inside the 5-yard line three times and got 16 more first downs than U Va.

West Virginia just missed against Syracuse. After pulling within two points, the Mountaineers passed for the extra points, but the ball slipped through the hands of Dick Leffridge. Syracuse missed both their extra points, but John Paglio put a 32-yard field goal through the goal posts for the difference in the game, 15-13.

In another game decided on extra points VMI fell before Holy Cross 14-12. Butch Numpally passed 54 yards to Joe Bush and 57 yards to Chuck Beale for both scores but missed passes for the extra points. Both Holy Cross scores came after interceptions, and a pass by Fran Coughlin won the game for the Crusaders.

Powerhouse Furman continued rolling through its weak schedule by blasting Presbyterian 27-0. Kicking specialist Brownie Cordell set a Conference record for conversions in a season as he kicked his 22nd of the year. Davidson finally won a game, 7-3 over winless Lehigh, to mark up their first triumph after two ties and four losses.

After coming within inches of beating VPI last week, Richmond continued to show its new-found strength in a 26-7 victory over The Citadel. Ronnie Smith took to the air and passed for two touchdowns. The Spider defense stopped the Bulldog running attack cold and limited them to only two offensive threats in the entire game.

Freshman Team Romps to Victory

● THE FRESHMAN SQUAD ended its undefeated season last Friday with a 33-0 massacre of Columbian Prep at Wilson High School.

The Baby Buff drew first blood early in the contest when wingback Tom Metz took the opening kick-off on the GW 20 and returned it to the 35-yard line. Metz scampered to the Columbian 45, and on the next play Garry Lyle, a promising tailback who may fill Dick Drummond's shoes next year, churned out a 45-yard run for the first score. Bob Glurou's kick made it 7-0.

Lighting struck again in the first quarter after the Buff jammed up the Prep offense on the next series of downs, forcing the luckless Columbian team to punt, and Bruce Keith then took a Buff pass from quarterback Bob Schmidt from the GW 20 to the midfield stripe. Lyle danced his way 50 yards in one sweeping play to add 6 points to the tally but the P.A.T. attempt was no good. The score remained 13-0, in favor of the Colonial freshman.

The Colonial defense stopped Prep cold for the remainder of the first quarter, and in the second quarter fullback Ken Stryjewski intercepted a Columbian pass on

Colonial Seniors Shine In BYU Homecoming Victory

by Jim Leupold

● TWELVE SENIORS PLAYED their last home game for the Buff on Saturday. To mark the occasion, the Colonials soundly trounced an undermanned Brigham Young squad, 23-6, with the seniors accounting in one way or another for all but five points. Sophomore Mark Gross picked up the other points on a 26-yard field goal and two points after touchdown.

The Colonials found it easy sailing against the Cougars, and they rolled up a total of 415 yards, while holding BYU to 104 yards.

Dick Drummond, called by many the greatest halfback in the University's history, was among the seniors playing their last home game. Drummond climaxed his brilliant career with a total offense of 161 yards, and he also scored two touchdowns on runs of 61 and six yards. Drummond has broken the University's all-time career scoring record established by Tuffy Leemans in the 1930's. He received an award at the Homecoming Ball as the outstanding senior in the Homecoming game.

Merv Holland, the nation's fourth-ranked passer, also had another good day. He completed 15 passes for 202 yards and threw a 61-yard scoring pass to Paul Flowers in the third quarter. Holland continued to break records. Last week he broke Ed Hino's completion record. On Saturday, he surpassed Andy Davis' GW season passing-yardage mark with 1,295. Marvelous Merv has established the Southern Conference records of 190 passes attempted, and his 98 completions are also a season conference record. His yardage total surpassed the 1,227 gained by Howard Dyer of VPI in 1960.

Many other seniors played an excellent game, including Captain Dick Duenkel and defensive halfback Bill Brzezinski, who added an extra spark to the Buff defense.

Brigham Young's new Y-formation was unable to sustain a scoring drive. The only Cougar touchdown came on a one-yard run after a blocked punt. The Y-formation is less than a month old, and evidently the Cougars have not yet added enough polish to it.

The team upheld Coach Camp's prediction of a victory and now has a 2-6 record with one game to play against Vanderbilt on Nov. 23. This game will be played at Vanderbilt.

SX Tops PSK; Med Sophs Roll Over PKA, 26-0

● THE MED SOPHS showed good strength and depth and an excellent passing attack in defeating Pika, 26-0, in the Sunday "A" League. The Med team dominated the game except for the scoreless third quarter when the Pikes picked up three first downs.

The Med team won the toss and elected to kick. They gained possession of the ball with an interception by Norris Harbold and scored with two passes from quarterback Bill Gray to Harbold. Rolland Bullard broke up the extra point attempt.

PIKA was forced to kick and the Med Sophs scored again with a pass from Gray to Nelson Cantrell. Gray passed to Bob Ludwig for the extra point. In the second quarter, Gray set up a touchdown with a pass to Shoemaker and scored with a pass to Hofmann. Gray then ran for the PAT, making the score 20 to 0 at the end of the half.

The ball changed hands often in the second half in a see-saw battle. Frank Breen intercepted for the Med Sophs. Neither team was able to mount a serious threat until Gray passed to Ted Alexander for the final touchdown late in the fourth quarter, making the score 26-0. Breen broke up the PAT attempt. The game ended with a fourth Med interception.

SX Topples PhiSK

Sigma Chi's offense, led by quarterback Tony Romasco upended PhiSK, 19-0. The tough SX defense, led by the defensive charge on the line of Bill Benton, Vytas Tarulis, and Bob Tilker kept the PSK offense bottled up through most of the game as quarterback Ken Reitz was rushed hard.

Len Amick intercepted for SX on the first play from scrimmage. Romasco passed to Tilker for a first down on the PSK 29-yard line. Romasco then handed off to Amick, who fired a pass to Jack Bailey, giving SX a first down on the one-yard line. Romasco spotted Tilker alone in the end zone and hit him for the TD. The extra point try was incomplete.

SX mobilized its best offensive effort in the second period, scoring 13 points. Romasco hit Bailey for 40 and 30-yard scoring passes and Paul Nolan for the PAT following the second touchdown.

The second half was scoreless. SX mounted the only significant threat of the half in the final period on a series of Romasco to Nolan passes. The drive stalled deep in PSK territory as Bill Cooper intercepted.

In the only other game, TEP defeated Yahus, 6-0.

KS Downs Pharmacy

Kappa Sigma downed Pharmacy, 19-0 in the Sunday "B" League. KS opened the scoring in the second quarter on a 40-yard run around the right end on a keeper play by quarterback Jim Paulson.

Paulson ran over for the PAT. The first half ended with the score 7-0 in favor of KS.

In the third period, it was Paulson again running for 30 yards and another KS score. He repeated in the last play of the game from scrimmage in the final quarter.

Med Frosh Blank ROTC

The Med Frosh scored in the second and third periods to shut out ROTC, 12-0. In the opening period, the Med offense directed by quarterback Bruce Brodtkin was so effective in practicing ball control, that ROTC never got the ball for a play from scrimmage. Brodtkin mixed his plays well as he led Med on a long drive which ended on the ROTC eight-yard line on a good catch by Bill Tully as the quarter drew to a close.

In the second quarter, Med scored on a Brodtkin to Bass to Dunn halfback pass. The extra point was incomplete. The Med Frosh hit paydirt again in the next period. Tully made a diving catch of a Brodtkin pass to put the ball inside the ROTC with first down and goal to go. Larry Schoenfeld ran through the center for the score. The scoring drive was marked by a series of swing passes. Mike Frankhouser broke up the PAT pass.

ROTC started to move in the last quarter Frankhouser passed to Mahone for a long gain. However, the Med defense held. The game ended with an exchange of punts.

TKE Ties SAE

TKE came fighting back in the second half to wipe out a first half lead by SAE and tie up the game, 12-12. SAE scored early in the game as quarterback Bob Grimmer ran for the TD with good blocking. The extra point attempt was no good, as were the others in the game.

In the second quarter, Grimmer, though rushed hard managed to hit Barry Rowe with a jump pass for a first down after SAE declined to punt on a fourth and eight situation. Grimmer then ran the ball to the two and hit Rowe for the score.

The second half saw the TKE's tearing through the SAE pass defense with a series of short passes over the center. Jon Feldman was the principal target. Jeff Feldman passed to Jon for the TD to cap the scoring drive, which started in the TKE territory.

TKE threatened again as Duke Farrell intercepted a pass on the SAE 33. The third quarter ended with TKE in good scoring position. The scoring threat stalled on the two-yard line of SAE as the SAE defense stiffened and took possession of the ball on downs.

Minutes later, Jon Feldman snared a pass good for 40 yards and a TD to make it a new ball game. With less than a minute left, Farrell again intercepted. However, Grimmer did the same for SAE on the next play. The game ended with SAE in control of the ball.

Next week's Sunday "B" League schedule.
